

22|23 SEASON

 UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

presents

YONDER MOUNTAIN STRING BAND

ADAM AIJALA, guitar

BEN KAUFMANN, bass

DAVE JOHNSTON, banjo

NICK PICCININNI, mandolin, fiddle, banjo

SAT, MAY 13, 7:30 pm

Hodgson Concert Hall

The program will be announced from the stage.

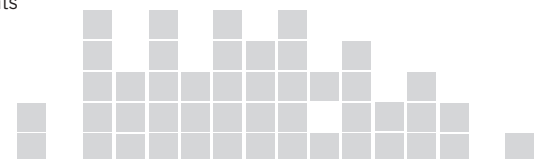

Supported by

DIANNE D. WALL

DEANA AND STEVEN JONES

Please silence all mobile phones and electronic devices. Photography, video and audio recording, and texting are prohibited during the performance.

#ugapresents

ABOUT THE ARTISTS

YONDER MOUNTAIN STRING BAND

Innovative and exuberant, controversial and uncompromising, Yonder Mountain String Band spearheaded a musical movement in Colorado and carried its new language of progressive roots music to countless fans worldwide in a 25-year career that shows no signs of slowing down.

With one foot in the bluegrass world and the other in the jam-band world, the band has weathered the scrutiny of the bluegrass establishment, changed its landscape and has come full circle with a Grammy nomination for Best Bluegrass

Album for their 2022 release, Get Yourself Outside, co-written by founding members Adam Aijala (guitar), Ben Kaufmann (bass), Dave Johnston (banjo) and Nick Piccininni (mandolin, fiddle, banjo).

No one band can be said to have invented jam-grass, but the movement and sound—the most commercially successful vein of bluegrass music over the past 25 years—wouldn't exist as it does today without them.

